

REPUBLIKA E SHQIPËRISË

ENERGY REGULATORY AUTHORITY PRESS RELEASE

Dated 30.09.2022

For all the household customers supplied by the Universal Service.

ERE has already published the updated prices for electricity consumption by household customers, who consume over 800 kWh. These prices are currently applicable for October 1 to December 31, 2022 period.

With Council of Ministers Decision no. 584, dated 08.10.2012, the Government declared the emergency situation for electricity supply.

In the current situation of high volatility of electricity supply sources, from domestic production, the decision-making of the Energy Regulatory Authority on the change of the electricity sale prices is subject to periodic review. This review shall be carried out in accordance with changes in the costs of providing electricity.

ERE is obliged to reflect the energy prices of end-use customers, the costs of supply according to the costs of the energy supply source.

The prices set by ERE remain applicable from October 1 to December 31, 2022 period. In the current emergency situation, the price review shall be periodic, so if the Universal Service Supplier announces changes in the electricity purchase price, they shall be reflected by ERE. For example, if for October FSHU company shall procure energy from KESH company at the price of about 2.6 ALL/kWh, the electricity price for household customers shall remain 9.5 ALL/kWh.
